DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-230 are allowable over the prior art of record.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Although Galbraith et al. (US PAT No. 5,440,245) teaches a logic module with configurable combinational and sequential blocks, one of ordinary skill in the art would not have been motivated to modify the teaching of Galbraith et al. to further includes, among other things, the specific of a method for deriving a fractional-rate clocked logic circuit from a full-rate clocked logic circuit comprising driving combinatorial logic elements based on the combinatorial functions, and deriving sequential logic elements responsive to the combinatorial signals and a fractional clock signal for producing register signals where a frequency of the fractional clock signal is a fraction of the full-rate clock frequency and at least one of the sequential logic elements produces a register feedback signal, and a logic block comprising a deinterleaver for receiving and deinterleaving the input signals into alternating even and odd input signals, an even combinatorial function elements for receiving the even input signals and for producing even combinatorial signals and an odd combinatorial function element for receiving the odd input signals and for producing odd combinatorial signals, an even sequential function element for receiving the even combinatorial signals and a clock signal for producing even register signals; an odd sequential function element for receiving the odd combinatorial signals and a clock signals for producing odd register signals and register feedback signals, etc., as set forth in the claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Carro (US PAT No. 6,515,504) discloses circuits and method for implementing autonomous sequential logic.

Durham et al. (US PAT No. 6,133,758) discloses a method and apparatus for changing a self-timed circuit into a self-resetting circuit to reduce the inherent delay.
